

Where each forecaster lands on each population, late windows (all 21 forecasters on the same windows). ANKYRA is first or second on all six test populations; no other forecaster is in the top two on more than two of them. The position uses the mean per-unit rank, a secondary summary; the primary estimand is in the test table and figure 3. Rows: mean position on the test populations.

